Coffee and scones on Christmas morning with the family – Yes please!

Our family spends Christmas morning lounging around in our PJ's opening gifts and munching on treats, drinking coffee. Here are some essential kitchen items that keep our lazy tradition alive!

Scones are pretty easy to make from scratch and so is lemon curd, but if you're running short on time (as we all are during the holiday season) it might be nice to have a quick solution on hand!

We've had the same Nespresso maker in the shop for years, I can't quite bring myself to replace it since it still works just fine but if I did I would definitely be thinking of this guy!
